National Association for Chicano Studies (NACS) 20th Annual Conference
March 25-28, 1992

The Twentieth Annual Conference of the National Association for Chicano Studies (NACS) was held March 25-28 at the Sheraton-Gunter Hotel, San Antonio, Texas. The conference was sponsored by the University of Texas at San Antonio through the Hispanic Research Center. The theme of the conference was Twenty Years of NACS Scholarship: 500 Years of Struggle and Change. This theme focused on the national discourse which surrounded the quincentennial debate and the evolution of NACS.

Over 1,500 students, professional and community leaders attended the conference and over one hundred panels that varied in topics were presented. Three plenary sessions addressed the conference themes. The NACS conference plenary session's topic was Bridging Indigenismo y Chicanismo: 500 years of Struggle and Change. Margarita Melville, this year's NACS scholar, moderated a lively discussion that tied our past and our future as a people. The Student plenary session focused on student empowerment and passed resolutions on student issues. Racism, Misogyny and Homophobia: Chicana Resistance to 500 years of Denial was the title for the Chicana Caucus plenary session. Ines Talamantez, Deena Gonzalez and Ines Hernandez inspired the standing room only audience with their message of strength, survival and hope.

MEChA from the University of Texas at San Antonio, sponsored Noche de Cultura, which entertained the overflow audience with poetry, theatre and musica. A Chicano art exhibit and a formal poetry reading rounded out the variety of activities that NACS sponsored. The traditional baile packed the dance hall with the music of Dr. Loco's Rockin' Jalapeño band from San Francisco and San Antonio's own Conjunto Aztlan.

During the last NACS conference, we did not have time to elect the next national student coordinators. We agreed to have the new regional representatives contact the different schools in their regions in order to bring forth nominations for the national coordinator positions. I gave them until June 30th to submit the nominations to me, but unfortunately, only Juan Esteva (Northern California Rep.) submitted one nomination which was his own. Since Juan followed the process that we had agreed upon to elect the next two national coordinators, by default he is automatically elected as one because there are no other nominations. Also, we have to take into consideration that we have lost valuable time and we need to move on to do work. We can not afford to lose any more time. We need leadership now!!

In order to select the other coordinator, we are making a call to the NACS membership through this newsletter to submit your nominations. Choose from the six remaining regional representatives, and submit them to Rusty Barcelo (the NACS treasurer), since she has the membership list. This is to verify the membership status of the voters. Whoever receives the most votes of the six remaining representatives, wins.

Hopefully our new elected coordinator can start working with the Site Committee at San Jose State University (the site where NACS 21 will be). We cannot afford to be left out of the program or one of our sessions being cut out. That is why it is very important to have official student representation at the site committee. If you have any questions contact me at (818) 344-9981.

We have received a proposal for establishing a national office from Carlos Maldonado from Eastern Washington State University. I assigned a committee to review the proposal and their recommendations are to go ahead and make Eastern Washington the temporary site for 3 years and then evaluate it to see if it is going to meet our needs as the permanent site. The review committee will be updating the membership on this issue at the next national business meeting.

Resolutions are still being typed and will be available upon request in mid-November. One of our resolutions was to write a letter of support for Ricardo Aldape Guerra who is being accused of a murder he did not commit. I have included in this newsletter the letter NACS and the Political Action Committee wrote on the behalf of his appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals, Texas Governor Richards, and the Mexican Consulate. We have also included the response we received from the Comite Pro-Defensa Ricardo Aldape Guerra.

I am looking forward to working with the coordinating committee this year and hope to see all members in San Jose in March.

NACS Community Honorees for 1992

NACS usually recognizes persons outside academia who have contributed to the Chicano Struggle. This year, two people, Judge Albert Peña, Jr. and Rosa Salazar Rosales, were honored for their significant impact to the Tejano-Mexicano community.

Throughout his long public career Albert Peña has been actively involved in the political affairs of the Chicano community. Judge Peña has been a key political figure in Texas and the nation with his involvement in Chicano political groups such as: PASSO, LULAC, GI Forum, MALDEF, and MAUC.

Rosa Rosales is one of a long history of Chicanas in South Texas who have played vital roles in the political life in the region. Community organizer and labor leader, Rosales came into prominence in LULAC where she is Texas State Director. She is respected and honored by NACS because of her leadership and work in the Chicano community.

NACS Honors Margarita Melville as NACS Scholar

A NACS scholar is a person who has significantly contributed to Chicano Studies. NACS is proud to have Dr. Margarita Melville as the NACS scholar for 1992.

A scholar and activist, Profa. Melville has made a significant contribution to the development of Chicano Studies. She has a history of social activism which includes working in Guatemala and also being jailed for her beliefs in the United States. She edited two books on Chicanas, Twice a Minority: Mexican American Women and Mexicans at Work, as well as many articles on the Chicano/a experience. Melville has been Coordinator of Chicano Studies at UC-Berkeley since 1986.

They include: Colorado, the East Coast, the Midwest, Northern California, Southern California, the Rocky Mountain region and the Texas region. Final business was the election of the Kathryn Bleckmer Reyes as Chair and Maria Teresa Marquez as Secretary.

Letter of Support for Ricardo Aldape Guerra

We are writing to express our concern about the unjust incarceration and possible execution of a man that all evidence suggests is not guilty of the crime for which he is accused. Indeed, evidence exists that suggests that Mr. Ricardo Aldape Guerra is innocent. Specifically, we are writing in the hope that Ricardo Aldape Guerra can be granted a permanent stay of execution, a new trial, or executive clemency.

As an association of scholars and university professors, we are concerned that the appropriate evidence be evaluated without the bias of racial hysteria against undocumented workers in this country. Since this seems to have been the case with respect to Mr. Aldape Guerra, we urge you to more carefully weigh the evidence and thus grant one of the above requests.

I am sure that you share with us a concern to uphold the justice system. It is a case such as Mr. Aldape Guerra which raises questions about the equitability of the administration of justice. We hope, therefore, that you will ensure the protection of the justice system and grant his individual due process.

We urge you, therefore, to carefully consider the evidence that strongly casts doubts on Ricardo Aldape Guerra's guilt and indeed suggests his innocence. We hope that after this review, you will grant him a permanent stay of execution, a new trial or executive clemency.

Sincerely,
Maria Guadalupe Gallegos-Diaz

Dear Maria Guadalupe:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 20, 1992 and enclosed copies of support letter on behalf of our brother Ricardo Aldape Guerra. Thank you for the support that the National Association for Chicano Studies has given to Mr. Aldape Guerra.

For your information, State District Judge Woody Densen modified Ricardo's execution date from May 12 to September 24, 1992. It was, indeed, a partial victory for Chicano, Mexicano, and all other poor and oppressed people who struggle for justice. I am enclosing copies of our new brochure (in English and Spanish) and copies of new petitions that we are circulating for signatures. Please feel free to reproduce them and circulate them as you deem necessary.

Further, we are making plans to soon commence a speaking tour throughout the United States and Mexico. We will have a slide presentation and speak about Ricardo's case and the necessity for all justice and freedom-loving people to come out in support of this man. This is a cause that symbolizes the legacy of gringo injustice and our people's resistance from Gregorio Cortez to Ricardo. Let us know if you would like for us to speak at UC Berkeley.

Again, thank you for your support and please let us hear from you.

In Solidarity,
Alvaro Hernandez Luna
National Coordinator

Hispanic Student Services Director is Awarded Prestigious Jessie Bernard Shaw Wise Woman Award

Dr. Irene Blea, Director of Hispanic Student Services at UNM has been awarded one of seven Jessie Bernard Shaw Wise Woman Awards. Blea could not be reached when the award was announced because she was technically on vacation and fighting her termination from the university. On May 26, Blea and two other women of color were terminated by Assoc. Vice-President of Student Affairs, Matthew Padilla, in a cumbersome reorganization effort that also eliminated Hispanic Student Services, African American Student Services and American Indian Student Services. Because of mass protest, UNM President Richard Peck issued a call to halt the elimination of the centers and the elimination of the women of color directors for one year on June 3rd.

The Jessie Bernard Shaw Wise Woman Award is bestowed upon a female sociologist who demonstrates the life characteristics and qualities of the famous sociologist. Blea was recognized for her outstanding scholarship, her feminist research and paradigm shifting perspectives in the area of sociology. Her areas of specialization are Race Relations, Qualitative Theory and Methods and Chicano Studies.

Blea is a founding member of NACS and was our first female National Chairperson in 1978-1979. She is a pioneer in addressing Chicana, Mexican American and feminist issues and has authored two of the best recognized textbooks in Chicano Studies.

Professor Blea accepted the position as Director of Hispanic Student Services in January 1991, because she was offered the opportunity to put her theory and research into practice.
